Topic: Why Minister Farrakhan Said he failed?

Hello Humanitarian Workers,

Blessings and hopefully every one celebrated Dr. Martin Luther King's Birthday with the understanding of what the man and his family went through.

The title of this particular work session could easily be renamed: How did Minister Farrakhan survive (<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9qNR5X1ntGo>)?

Mini Prelude:

The purpose of these work sessions are to stimulate informal talks on how we may come to bettering our relations with one another and our Creator. Where this particular work session is the third one in the outlined set of Internet discussions, and where at times the topic is actually a particular focus for the larger objectives of ending some of the war states in our society.

Being that the world is vase, agreements and understanding will come about when we all have a collective ideology about how we can correct the flaws in the fundamental structures of large institutions.

Therefore we choose a structure of referencing the works of others while making comments with the objective of obtaining necessary changes to achieve said objectives.

Before we get into the particulars of the damage that racism and discrimination has done to our society, I would request everyone to watch

DR. RAY HAGINS: Religious Mis education - African Consciousness vs European Christian Imperialism!

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Cx5xT9R4qak>

The mis education problems are very serious ploys to destroy the truth of our spiritual health and foundations. These issues also affects the core problems of our society regard issues of floods, tornadoes and earthquakes. These elements also known as the "Wrath of God" is related to humanity's care and respect for each other.

As we pray for peace and understanding I come to ask myself if the new Pope Francis really cares about humanity and the reality of the Laws of God.

Jesus Is Jewish.

While reading Pope Francis's new book "A Big Heart Open To God: A Conversation with Pope Francis" raised several questions about his position regarding our spiritual health and relations with one another and our creator.

The first question is that of Honesty.

Prayers to our Creator (God) should be with sincerity with the intentions to do better regarding habits, how we act and teach the children.

I also had the chance to read Don Miguel Ruiz and Don Jose Ruiz books on “The Four Agreements” and “The Fifth Agreement”. These two books bring a lot of clarity on how we should act in our relations and even within our prayers.

Although I do not agree with issues of the second agreement “do not take it personally” In all reality you should take it personally.

If one is to try to make their word impeccable, then honesty by others should have value as well.

Opinions matters. The way you walk, talk and dress matters when you are trying to get that job or when you are trying to meet that girl of your dreams. The attitude of God is a very deep subject.

When you talk and pray to our Creator, why would anybody think God would respect a bunch of lies or intentions of perpetuating a system of theft and murder?

In the Courts (at least in the United States courts) the foundation is suppose to be “The Truth, The whole Truth and nothing But the Truth”.

Do you think God should deserve the truth from humanity and our leaders?

Do you think our Creator wants the Crucifixion shoveled in his face as an example of how some leaders respected (disrespected) the Commandments. As well as teaching others that death and warring as “the glory of god”?

Any humane person would say CERTAINLY NOT. However, after many years of disputed with the Catholic ideology and its leaders has yet to say they that are fully ready to uphold the Laws of our Creator and show respect for a healthy relations with our Creator. And not just maintaining a criminal state and mentality for our society.

One of the first issue is that Pope Francis stating that he is a sinner.

Is he going to continue to be a sinner or continue preaching the murder of Christ was the greatest event for humanity?

After talking with several spiritual people and people who pray, they said they are not sinners.

Why would one accuse a new born of being a sinner?

At times I had several discussions with a person who wanted to be a Baptist Minister. Only problem was he just wanted to accuse everybody of being a sinner. It did not matter if they were young or old. A male or a female. A hard working person or a lazy person. He just accused them of being a sinner.

I am not a sinner. I pray and hope that our Creator would respect (and answer) said prayers.

Now that New York's Mayor de Blasio has made his way into office and has met with Cardinal Dolan to discuss several issues regarding the health of New York. Mayor de Blasio has also requested the pope to come to New York http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2014/01/14/pope-francis-new-york\_n\_4595131.html which may be a good move for our society if the pope is willing and will be serious about the problems of our spiritual relations.

It seems that mayor de Blasio request for reducing traffic fatalities is off to a very poor start De Blasio Envisions A NYC With Zero Traffic Deaths

The request is a sour spot for New York at this particular point in time. That with the order to have the police issue more tickets can cause a major riff between the police and the general public.

It can lead to big problems if the police just go against the public and issue tickets for stupid things.

Getting back to question of how Minister Farrakhan survived?

May be related to the service need to assist us with rebuilding our temples with the truth. As well as to help with the dialogue efforts “the Children of Abraham: Jews & Muslims in Conversation”.

We are currently still working on getting the work study programs together for efforts of cleaning up the waters discussions via the Internet.
